Learn more about how to partner with local law enforcement.

Are you or your employees spending considerable time trying to minimize or reduce criminal activity and the associated problems stemming from problematic tenants? If so, you can't afford to miss out on this monthly program designed to help better manage your property.

Several Washington County law enforcement agencies have teamed up to bring helpful information and training to you each month. Rental property owners and managers can benefit from receiving this free crime prevention training to keep illegal activity off YOUR property. Regardless of the size or number of rental units, multi-family or single-family dwellings, this information will enable you to have a more stable tenant base.

“Thank you for providing the monthly forums. The information and knowledge I gained from regularly attending has proven to be invaluable on several levels. This program is a must for anyone involved in residential rental property ownership and management.”

– Rental Property Owner in Tigard

A true benefit of attending the forum is an opportunity to get your questions answered by Warren Allen LLC attorneys, who specialize in rental property issues. Come learn as they share insight and offer perspective which will ultimately help you face the issues and challenges related to managing or owning rental property. Come learn from the best!

In addition to the relevant and useful information presented each month, the forum also offers an opportunity to network with fellow rental property owners and managers in your area. You will also learn how to work with your local police departments. Police representatives from Beaverton, Forest Grove, Hillsboro, Tigard and the Washington County Sheriff's Office are on hand at the session and can offer insight into activity occurring near or at your property.

The monthly forums are always scheduled on the second Wednesday of the month. The 90-minute sessions begin at 6:30 p.m. and there is no charge to attend. Here's a sampling of what to expect (topics are subject to change without notice).
